This is the third edition in what threatens to become a continuing enterprise. Again, thanks must go to Howard Karno for continuing to query his colleagues in the booktrade for information. The new edition represents an augmentation of previous lists to include-- with additions, deletions, and changes in entries and indexes-- some 149 suppliers of Latin American Library materials.

However, the reader will note some important omissions; these stem from our insistence that the questionnaire (example appended as the last page) be returned by the vendor in order to have an entry appear in the Directory. We encourage those vendors who have not responded to our survey to do so. The first two editions of the Directory received wide distribution in the United States and abroad, strong evidence that libraries and individuals are interested in knowing about the services offered by those who supply bibliographic materials from Latin America. The compilers hope to make their publication as comprehensive as possible, but this will only happen with our receipt of accurate and up-to-date information supplied by the vendors themselves.
